At lunch on 9/28, I thought of a conversation starter and shared it with ~~them~~ the inmates sitting near me. It went something like this:

"Three sentences that can change the world:

- 1) When you do what you love, you bring heaven to earth. [You can't do this without Jesus Christ]
- 2) Imagine everyone doing that. [Isa. 11:9]
- 3) When you do this, you become a joint heir of Christ and gain access to all the wisdom and power of God to your role in an optimal way; you become God incarnate."

The first two are an easy sell. The third one blows them away, and they don't know what to say.

I explain that there are four words that summarize how to become a joint heir of Christ: "all-in, synced up." All in, in ~~embrace~~ finding and embracing one's unique role in life (Eph. 4:1~~2~~, JST), which requires ~~the~~ adherence to the gospel of Jesus Christ; synced up with God's direction in all that you do.

Everyone can do this. And I don't see it being too much of a stretch to see everyone wanting to do it as it catches on societally.

②

And we bring heaven to earth, societally as a civilization.
