July 4, 2024, Thu. News, Shows⁴ highlights & [commentary]

Sapphires (Jonathan Cahn) July 4

- General Lee's Confession - After Gettysburg, Lee admitted, "It's all my fault," exemplifying an important part of repentance. (From message # 646 - "The Power of Being Wrong")
[646 is the gematria sum (<in Heb?/Gr?>) of "Messiah"]

Movies

- (9.8). "Hamilton" - NY Theater ^{musical} 2 does an amazingly good depiction of Alexander Hamilton, an orphan who became a pivotal Founding Father, serving as Washington's right hand man. Addresses his shortcomings - esp. affair ~~at~~ while working on banking system [indicates his not being aligned with integrity at that time]
- (7). "A-Team" silly violence, Hard to believe such degenerate people could do "good" for country. I do like the notion of outside-the-box methods saving the day.

(8.5) Fireworks Show - NBC

I was pleased to see several acknowledgements of God, value of Faith, importance of following your [divinely inspired] dreams. One of the singers sang a medley including Amazing Grace. The fireworks display was excellent.

- (9) Story TV "America: Our Defining Hours"
I watched several episodes
