Sterling Daily (5/13/2024) "Conspirator" to

Lincoln Assassin Player Mouse

by Sterling D. Allan, 228033 CUCF

My note highlights from May 13, 2024

News

TND 75% women 25-54(?) years old are employed - highest ever result of college-educated, something to do [and demasculatization of men. On positive side, women are realizing value of finding and fulfilling their unique mission in life.]

Scripts Ultra-processed food associated with higher death rate [or no duh! Food should be sought as close to whole/~~or~~ original state.]

Movies

- (9) "Conspirator" - Depicts Tankee attorney reluctantly then vigorously defending a mother who provided housing for John Wilkes Booth but didn't realize his assassination intentions. His loyalty to the Constitution did not prevail. She was hanged with four others due to mob rule passion of a country bent on retribution/vengeance.
- (8) "Ghost Town" - Cute depiction of post-life hang-outs seeking favors of a Dentist who came back from death and could still see these needful ghosts/spirits. Mixture of good morals and worldly ethics (-).
- (7) "Dough" - Black guy helps Jewish baker. Sneaks marijuana into dough, making sales boom. [Best classic, promoting new moral amidst goodness, giving positive spin.]

Institute - Discussed Joseph Smith finishing translation of B&M. Great insights from fellow inmates. I pointed out that it was not at all easy to be associated with J.S. at this time, as he was anathema to the locals. Mentioned my dad's recent paper (blog post) about the miracle of the B&M being published in just 6 months, 5k copies, which should have taken more than 17 months in best-case scenario.

Task I composed a home page content/sequence of menu items for IndComing.org. Corrected Bio text errors.
