The Miracle at Grap Yehang. My dad told me about this 12-min. documentary, narrated by Elder Holland, ~~about~~ about 240 soldiers from St. George, UT who had been promised "strip" "stripling warriors" type protection in the Korean war. They were deployed together and were attacked by around 4k Chinese soldiers, but none of them died. "We shoot you but you don't fall down."

(9.8) The Chosen Season 4, Episodes 3, 4 I was deeply moved by the final scene, in which Jesus is viewing (alone, having sent his bickering apostles ahead to Jerusalem) the process of making oil, symbolic of his pending crushing crucifixion; and Grains (sp?) comes up to him (having found him intuitively) to thank him for healing his son remotely. It symbolized, powerfully, the Isa. 65: 1-3 depiction/prophesy of the Lord going to another people because his own people don't receive him.

[Political Prisoner]

Bill Cunningham interviewed JB incarcerant Tom Hale, who was wearing suit, dancing in capitol, having been ushered in by cop. Did no violence. Served 18 months in solitary, pre-trial, poor food, no doctor, cops didn't speak English, like 3rd world dictatorship. They didn't let him cut his hair, no meat; mail delivery months delayed.

(9.8) MUSIC & Spoken Word Last episode for a while for (2)

Lloyd Newell, whose going to serve as a mission president with his wife. Choir sang a song whose lyrics he composed and Mack Wilburg orchestrated. Excellent composition, mentions becoming a "joint heir of Christ" [ChaffB]. Choir ^{performed} did love arrangement of "God be with you 'till we meet again". Very touching tribute.

BYU-ID Devotional ^{6100a} Darby T. Stapleman (May 14, 2024). Her 3-yr-old boy (now in audience as 20-yr-old student) told her, "Listen to me with your eyes" as she was doing dishes. Another time, when he ^{major fracture} broke his arm falling off the tramp, she asked him if she should call grandma. "No, she'll just worry about me." She said, "Well, she could pray for you." to which he said "Then call everyone!"

Come Follow Up ^{5a} Jeff Abram, a physician's assistant, said a Bishop is like a physician's assistant for Jesus.
