

by Sterling D. Allan, 2285033, USC F

New Feature: Sterling Daily

Hello Family, Friends, Influencers,

5/22/24

I've started a new feature on my IndComing.org website that my friend, Mary, has been maintaining for me. It gives a brief highlight of the day's news, shows, movies, Institute, tasks, conversations... I try to limit it to two pages (hand-writing). It's under the "Daily" tab in the menu, also linked from the home page.

I've also added an "Intro" page for the ~~sight~~ site, to help people come up to speed incrementally with the advanced paradigm replete in most of the material, which is way outside the box, yet sound and well-founded.

I started the "Daily" feature on 5/16. I've really enjoyed doing this and anticipate continuing ~~this~~ ^{it} indefinitely. I am confident that people will find ~~it~~ useful, helpful, insightful, nominally accurate — something they'll want to read daily. (The "nominal accuracy" is a function of my limitations in prison to double check things.)

From 2002-2016, I ran Free Energy News ^[Pure Energy Systems] (e.g. PESN.com & PESwiki.com) which garnered around 40k page views per day. I very much enjoyed doing that focused reporting, but have broadened in my interests/skills.

Yes, the mail delay will add 5-10 days to the reports, but I intend them to be ^{nominal} "evergreen."

