Global Transformation

Hello, LDS Church,

6/14/22

In the book I wrote recently, available from IndComing.com, I set forth many significant roles that The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints could play in fulfilling Isa. 66:8 ("shall the earth be made to bring forth in one day? or shall a nation be born [again] at once?" — which is the focal point of the Isa. 66 chiasm I found six years ago); Zech. 3:9 ("I will remove the iniquity of that land in one day." [I = "my servant the BRANCH," thanks to Jesus Christ]); and Jer. 31:33, 34 ("... My law [I] will write in their hearts..., I will forgive their iniquities..."). We're talking about a global transformation "at once" or suddenly.

I don't see anyone else trying to bring this about, in order to avert the destruction and captivity to which we are headed (e.g. Isa. 66:4 "I... will bring their fears upon them, because when I called, none did answer..."); hence the title of my book: None to One: Evoking the Repentance Clause of Prophecy — to remedy that problem).

Can't you at least assign one scholar to correspond with me about my book? Call it exploratory. If you see me as an "apostate," reach out in a spirit of "lost sheep." Don't ignore me. That's not Christian...

Sincerely,
Sterling D. Allan, 228033

p.s. I've spent significant time elaborating my paradigm to Pres. Bell recently. He respects and appreciates me. I also met briefly with the District Pres. Clark. Furthermore, when I was in Promontory, "Bishop" Steven Smith met with me for an hour a week for a couple of months. Now, he's in the District Presidency. He and I have an excellent rapport, even better than the great rapport I have with Pres. Bell. When I was in Wasatch for three years, "Bishop" Forrester was my branch president. We had a pretty good rapport, but I never met with him privately. I also had an excellent rapport with our Sunday School teacher, Cully Davis. I doubt that any of the aforementioned would consider me to be "apostate" or mental. Oh, I also team taught Sunday School (about how we, in prison, can implement the new "ministry" admonition) with Elder Gary E. Stevenson when he visited our branch on May 5, 2018. He can vouch for me as well. All these leaders will best remember me for my piano or organ playing for congregational singing and choir. Mack Wilburg likely also remembers my singing in his choir at Wasatch. (See BYU TV's "Making Good" episode aired at Christmas time.)

p.p.s. My dad was a stake president in Boulder, CO, and was heavily involved in the launch, trouble-shooting and improvements of GPS. His Allan Variance master's thesis is the most oft-cited paper to come from the Dept. of Commerce. He's a regular speaker at Rob Meldrum's BoFM evidences conferences.
