

Hand Combing - org > Blog >

↕ Provo in Alphabetics

Hello again KBYU TV,

6/26/23

Here's another follow-up to my 5/27 letter inviting you to come record our 6/26 talent show followed by my 6/27 B.O.P. hearing the next morning.

We were told today that this evening's talent show in the chapel is cancelled. Apparently, it had something to do with the guards' walky talkies having problems communicating in the last couple of days — technical difficulties.

So, my apologies if you had planned on coming for that, only to be turned away. And, if it so happens that you weren't able to get tonight's show scheduled, now you'll have a second chance, more time to get the logistics set up.

BTW, the chapel piano is an electric piano with typical audio-recording plug in jacks on the back near the power cord. I don't know what kind of plug-in access the P.A. system has, but there are 4-6 jacks for mics, etc.  I would guess there is likely to be recording equipment plug-in parts as well, since the bay is likely standard equipment, not prison-specific.

This morning, while at my waiting after my audiology appointment, waiting for to go